The design of this airbrush is super

Reviewed in the United States on October 15, 2022

For airbrushing old hot wheels I found this airbrush a revelation compared to the one I had from Harbor Freight. So simple in design makes it so much easier to clean! The 3mm needle pattern is even and works as you would expect, the upgrade to this was the right choice for me. I highly recommend this if you are a novice user, a very good intro to airbrushing. The really cheap air brushes will make you want to stop and never do it again.

Boyfriend loves it!

Reviewed in the United States on September 3, 2022

I purchased this as a gift for my boyfriend for Christmas of 2021, and 8 months later it's still going strong and he hasn't had to replace anything on it. He has no prior experience with airbrushes, and he learned how to use it pretty quickly. He uses it to paint 3D-printed models for his HO scale train layout, and from what I've seen, it is so much better than just painting with a paintbrush. His painted models look so smooth and professional without brush marks or splotchy areas. He dilutes paint with either isopropyl alcohol or distilled water depending on the type of paint and cleans the airbrush out after by rinsing the paint cup with isopropyl alcohol and spraying it on a paper towel. He's only had to take it apart a couple of times to clean it after he used lower-quality acrylic paints.

A fun new tool for painting

Reviewed in the United States on August 8, 2022

Verified Purchase

I was worried a two stage trigger airbrush would be difficult to use as a beginner, but it was easier than expected. The flexibility of being able to control how lightly or heavily I paint is very useful. Its proving to be a versatile tool and I've used it heavily over the past week.

One downside (on airbrushes overall, not just this one) is the amount of cleaning needed. It's also a tedious process. Dump out the excess, spray cleaner. Spray more cleaner. Probs spray some more. Take out the needle, clean it. Check the tip. Clean it too.

I'm just whining now though. I'd recommend this to a friend and would buy it again if needed.

As good as Iwata Eclipse

Reviewed in the United States on May 1, 2022

Verified Purchase

Wow! I'm impressed. After buying several low end airbrushes all with two problem in common, they clog easily and are a pain to clean. I finally broke down a bought $180 Iwata Eclipse, the difference was amazing. It doesn't clog easily no matter the paint, and handles air pressure of 10psi with ease. Most of all the inside of the bowl is polished making cleaning much easier. Wanting another airbrush for backup I saw the Iwata Neo got good reviews and was less than half the price, so why not. To my surprise it performed as well if not better than the Eclipse.

I'll just list the differences;

Eclipse has a slot cut in the barrel so you can adjust the needle...never used it. You have to make sure the slot is on the top so you don't accidentally put pressure on the needle. Neo no slot to worry about.

My second air brush

Reviewed in the United States on August 21, 2022

I originally purchased the Harbor Freight kit that comes with a compressor. The airbrush was garbage, and I knew that going into it. The Neo is FAR superior, and I've even changed out my needle, nozzle and cap for a 0.5, all super easy after watching a few YouTube videos for confidence

Great investment for beginners!

Has great control and delivers a nice even spread when painting. The cup is removable for easy cleaning and comes with two cup sizes depending on the size of the job. This is my first iwata and I'm very satisfied with it.

Awesome worth every penny

Reviewed in the United States on June 1, 2020

I am a hobbist with an intrest in learning the art of airbrushing. So I purchased the Iwata Neo after I purchase a few off brand cheap airbrush spray guns. Please please please trust me on this, the cheaper ones will work ...IF..... you dont care what your project will look like ,you dont mind dealing with gun clogging or only being able to spray watered down paints . The Neo solved all my problems I was having ,thinking it was me doing something wrong. I am a newbie to airbrushing and still am learning the very basics. What I do know is this gun works great, I can now spray any paint I choose without over thinning , very minimal clogging if any, consistent spray pattern and pretty decent results (for my skill level). The neo cleans very easy compared to others Ive used, So far I have only painted items without any fine detail , I use to paint the same using spray cans with ok results but never again. Here are some benifits why :

Pros : You can choose and mix any color you want, water base paints have very low to no odor at all, 2oz of paint will cover more than a can of spray paint so its cost and space

Compared to cheap chinese Air Brushes, this is a joy to use.

Iwata Neo is what most experts consider to be a cheap entry level Air Brush, the advice they give is to ignore the Brushes you get free with Compressors. They really arent any good and I'll explain why here. The difference between a cheap Chinese Air Brush and a real entry level

NEO CN Gravity Feed Dual Action Airbrush + Free Shipping

Brush like the Neo is the trigger gives you full control over air and paint flow, from 0% to 100%, it is very sensitive and handles paints far better, unlike like the Chinese ones that give you 50% to 100% with constant blockages and problems and substandard results. That means the Neo gives you more control, less blockages, better paint flow yet is considered an entry level Air Brush.

It does not mean fine detail work though, you need to paint £100s more for that, they tend to be high end and expensive.

Trouble is, the Neo being so sensitive, requires a little practice to get used too. Its far too

Eye Opener

For the last year I've been using a couple of cheap but popular chinese airbrushes bought off amazon and have generally found it to be a very frustrating experience. I only use Vallejo model air paint and the cheap airbrushes would clog at the drop of a hat. I tried diluting with vallejo thinners, flow improvwer, retarder but hardly ever had a successful experience. Some colours, yellow ochre in particular, were almost impossible to spray.

Reluctantly, I decided to spend more and buy this NEO brush, which was the cheapest well-rated brush I could find. The difference is transformational. I prime without any dilution and can usually airbrush pretty much any colour without needing to thin. Airbrushing is no longer a last resort and something I dread.

Quality

Reviewed in the United Kingdom on January 24, 2019

Verified Purchase

I bought this airbrush to replace the cheap one I bought last year. It was over twice the price. But it was worth it as time lost cleaning and unblocking the head on the cheapo could be used else where. The spray pattern is spot on and on full chat it will cover an area very quickly. Its excellent quality, light in the hand and the spare small cup handy for small quantities of paint or reaching in close. With some practice I should be able to spray on the German camo spots on my models; just need to get used to the lighter trigger. The cups unscrew which helps cleaning. If you are thinking of buying your first airbrush, spend a bit extra on one of this calibre, a cheap one will put you off airbrushing as it will eventually annoy you so much. Check out the reviews on U Tube.

Disappointed

Reviewed in the United Kingdom on December 26, 2021

Arrived with the rubber band "washer" over the nozzle melted and it has cause it to be difficult to remove for cleaning purposes. The nozzle, although not touched, has a warning that if you break it too bad which is great when they know the part is fiddly and prone to breaking if it needs to be removed for unclogging. The box/instructions has no clear needle size which means you can't get replacements without guessing and hoping. Majorly disappointed. Don't dare use it. Probably going to send it back.

Great airbrush , brand new.

Reviewed in the United Kingdom on August 17, 2018

Tried cheap airbrush and compressor,absolutely useless ,sent them back . Bought as 186 compressor and then plumped for the iwata neo. I wanted prime delivery but this seller had average reviews people saying goods second hand, this is definitely not true my airbrush came next day delivery , the box has clearly been in the warehouse for a while but it is definitely brand new all sealed up it has come from America. I unpacked it and attached it to my compressor and ran vallejo primer through it ,the airbrush works perfectly i am now a happy chappy don't buy cheap it is worth the outlay for the better quality and knowing that the brush won't clog up every 2 minutes.
