As a founding partner of CytoPharma de Mexico, where the production of laetrile, also known as vitamin b-17 or Amigdalina (Amygdalin), began more than 40 years ago, I have decided to produce the best, and most potent form of Amygdalin known to date.

Pharmaceutical grade Laetrile, guarantees the best and purest form of Amygdalin (vitamin b-17).

We utilize the best, state of the art techniques and equipment for extraction and production in various presentations.

From solid tablets to liquid form or soft capsules, we use not only apricot kernels, but a wide variety of amigdalicious compounds found in other plant products to produce only the purest products with the highest concentration of Amygdalin to aid in alternative medicine protocols and practices.

Our goal it to produce only the very best, highest quality, pharmaceutical grade products that are economically feasible to cancer patients.
