Product description

Size: 128 fluid ounces (gallon)

Blubonic Industries® Food Grade Hydrogen Peroxide, NOTHING ADDED. Manufactured, bottled and stored under the strictest conditions. Jugs are approved, Safe-Gard tamper-evident, hermetically vacuum sealed, phenolic taperseal capped, food grade, and compatible with food grade hydrogen peroxide.

What is Food Grade Hydrogen Peroxide?

Hydrogen Peroxide (H2o2) is the most effective natural oxidizer, bleaching agent, disinfectant, and the only germicidal agent composed of only water and oxygen. It kills disease organisms by oxidation, and for this reason is considered the most effective natural sanitizer known to science. Food grade refers to the standard of handling and quality in the Food Chemical Codex.

Purity: Manufactured and tested by a Stanford U chemist using computer controlled titration to ensure precise accuracy in concentration, within 1/1000 of 1%. This item contains the highest concentration level permitted and recommended for handling, with great care. To ensure exceptional freshness the hydrogen peroxide is shipped hermetically sealed within 5 days of manufacturing.

Storage: For optimal preservation, food grade hydrogen peroxide should be refrigerated or stored in the freezer. Kept in refrigerated conditions, the reduction in concentration is 1-2% per year; Unrefrigerated about 10% per year. When storing unused for greater than one month, it is advisable to either release air every 30 days, or simply don't twist cap airtight, as pressure will build over time.

Usage: Food grade hydrogen peroxide is used for many different purposes and applications so we don't provide specific directions or usage expertise. We do include some basic handling, precautionary, and dilution information with product.

Guaranteed best deal on the best quality!

Question: Hi. i travel a lot. can i air travel with hydrogen peroxide fg in my luggage?

Answer: The answer is no you cannot travel on an airplane with 35% hydrogen peroxide. This item has a highly explosive gas ratio and should never be in a pressureized chamber such as that on an airplane.

Question: Doesn't this stuff (even if properly diluted) kill off your beneficial gut bacteria?

Answer: Yes it kills off good bacteria and bad bacteria, so it is a must to take a really good probiotic to replace the good bacteria. 15CFU's daily at least or more.

Question:

can this be used to kill mold

Answer:

Yes, I have used it to kill mold. Be sure to put a paper towel over the mold so that it can't throw spores into the environment while you are spraying it. Soak the paper towel with peroxide and let it bubble for a few hours. Once it stops, clean and dry the area. You may want to do it a second time to make sure it d... see more

My rating: a Strong BUY. Very Useful for cleaning home, produce, and feet.

PROS:

- This is high-quality H2O2 as seen by the build-up of oxygen when I keep it in a stopper bottle, I discovered that the rubber part on top becomes inflated like a balloon the next morning if I screwed the top on too tightly. Leave it loose and take great care not to knock it over.

- The gallon sized container came with special cap which allows venting, use it.

Cons:

- None.

- Wear disposable gloves when handling this product on your finger tips will burn a bit and turn white. If that happens, flush with water for a few minutes.
- I use 2 oz. of peroxide with 10 oz. of water to make a foot bath which keeps my feet nice and fresh after a long day of wearing tight constrictive shoes and socks at work.

This is an excellent product for cleaning fruits and vegetables even for cleaning meats. All I do is add a couple of capfuls to a large pan of cold water for soaking small batches of fruits and vegetables no scrubbing necessary or add 1/4 of Blubonic's Food Grand Hydrogen Peroxide into to a clean sink of cold water to soak my meat to remove harmful bacteria. Rinse everything well then pat dry and place in zip lock bags for later use. Meats treated with BFGHP can last beyond their suggest expiration date after they've been cleaned and stored in the frig in ziplock bags. This is a real time saver for me since there isn't always time when I get home from work. Safe great product that I have been using for years.I've attached a photo so you can see for yourself how the BFGHP is cleaning a chicken. All of the bubbles is the product doing its job by killing the bacteria that can make us sick.

Awesome Product & price

This stuff is the real deal. Currently using it to deter fungus introduced in my blood by the bird mites infesting my house. One of the only ways to rid the blood of fungus is by diluting this stuff in Distilled water, maybe 14-20 drops per gallon. Bird mites and mange mites can transmit morgellon's disease if the fungus is left unchecked in your blood. Thankfully this seller has a really well priced bottle w/ fast shipping, and its potent, and the bottle has clear instructions for safety storage and handling. Its concentrated. It'll burn you if it gets on your skin, but with this bottle i can make over 100 gallons of my fungus killing water . (If you ever do this make sure to take probiotics before bed every night as this stuff will kill some of your probiotic population present in your gut biome). Anyway, thankfully these guys had the BEST priced bottle, versus spending the same $ for 3% H2O2 to make only maybe 24-30 gallons, now i can make 100+ which is necessary since an infestation can take months to get rid of.

If 35% H2O2 is cut with water, it will freeze. I put this bottle of hydrogen peroxide from Blubonic Industries in the freezer, and it did not freeze. I will buy from this company again.

I initially purchased this product in the 8 oz size and followed the abundant directions I found on line about the protocol for using the 35 percent food grade hydrogen peroxide. I must say that I've only used it for three weeks and it has made a difference in the amount of energy I have. My husband and I also use it (diluted 3 percent) as a spray in our ears which seems to bring clarity to our hearing. The 3 percent spray is also used to spray on toilet paper to use after we use the restroom and it is phenomenal. I poured some that I had made up in a previous hydrogen peroxide bottle I had from the pharmacy in a cup, took and held in my mouth for ten minutes and it healed an open area in my gums between my teeth that had bothered me for months. From the large bottle, we measure out about 8 oz of the 3 percent and it has kept our legs from being so sore after walking five miles. I just ordered a gallon yesterday because it has proven to do what it claims and it is certainly worth reviewing. I have some bodily issues going on and I will update this review of any changes.

Terrific Product!

July 7, 2017

Verified Purchase

I've started a Hydrogen Peroxide therapy program using the One Minute Miracle book and Blubonic HP. One week into it, and I have noticed a real change in energy level. Apparently this brand of HP is the genuine article, and I am getting exactly what I hoped for from it. The item came quickly and well packed, in addition to being the best price I could find. Also, Lauren at customer service is terrific, and will answer your questions. I recommend buying here!
